Salesforce

The following examples demonstrate how to build various guides that you can run in Salesforce. Download the sample files and then import them into your Informatica Intelligent Cloud Services℠ account.

Note: You can run these sample guides in your Salesforce managed package environment. You cannot run these guides in Application Integration.

Prerequisite: You need a working Salesforce connection to run guides. To create a Salesforce connection, perform the following steps:

1. Install the Salesforce Managed Package. For more information, see the Salesforce and Application Integration Guide.
2. Create a Salesforce connection. For more information, see the Salesforce Connector Guide.

Perform the following steps to run the sample guides:

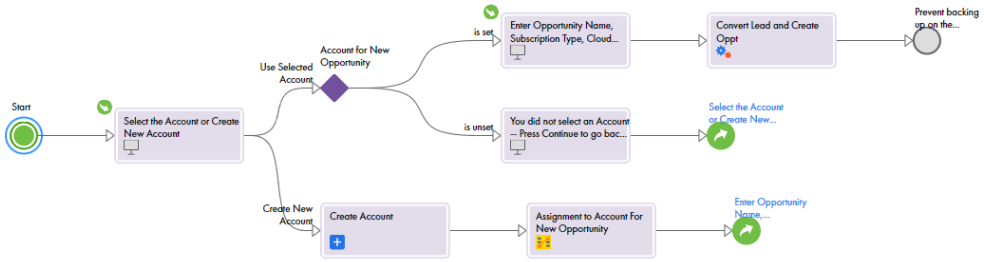

1. Download the guide.
2. Import it to your Application Integration account.
3. Log in to your Salesforce Managed Package account and run the guide.

Convert Lead to Opportunity

The Convert Lead to Opportunity guide lists accounts that might be a match for the Lead (based on Company name) and then lets the user select an account or create a new account. The lead is then converted to a contact and an opportunity is created.
